

Editor's Comment:

This is an interesting and important paper. I strongly recommend publishing the paper in the present revised form. The merits of the paper are as follows:

1. All reviewers give high marks, which are more than 8. Some reviewers give comments such as "the work is good".
2. The reviewers' decisions are Accept after minor revision. According to the reviewers' comments, the authors have corrected the paper carefully.
3. In the Author's comment area, the authors give feedback appropriately.

I believe that many researchers will be interested in the paper. Hence the paper has enough value for publication in the International Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Journal.
