Compulsory REVISION comments	Abstract In which country is this area? To simplify you can use % instead of word percent and the percentage can be used without comma. The area was selective purposively-please state why this area is selected? I.e. higher malnutrition Last sentence: what kind of intervention did you propose with regards to the KAP status Introduction There are many information and data in the background with NO supportive references. If this is not your statement/conclusion/result please put the references Material and methods Have the questionnaire been validated? Or if you are using questionnaire from other study, could you put the reference? Could you name differently for table 1, 2, and 3 depending on which characteristics i.e. table 1: scoring for knowledge.., table 2: scoring for attitude etc Any reference which use the same scoring as yours? Result and Discussion Same as previous comments, you can use % instead of word percent, which is not common Description paragraph for table 6. Please highlight the importance result from the table 6, you can not mention all statements as people prefer to see from the table 6 than read the long paragraph. Please highlight the important finding and discuss with result from other references. Same for table 7,8 You can also state in the Methods that you will do correlation analysis I don't know if you are aware, but sometime knowledge is not always correlate with practice. You can discuss this point further to make the analysis and finding more interesting References Please use number of references used in the paper. I.e. (1), (2) etc
Minor REVISION comments
Optional/General comments	There are some aspect need to be rework to make this result more interesting for reader.
