Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript is well structure and provide useful information for rice wheat cropping system. But I have some suggestion for the author to consider as: The author should review specific review for each components under various resource conservation technologies. For instance, Author should summarize his/her own review on each topic such as SRI can increase nutrient efficiency by utilizing resource efficiently etc. Introduction should be compact as a character of overview somehow compact structure to attract reader’s interest because most of the readers are not basic level. Therefore, I suggest author to summarize some detail information in the introduction and analyse some data from the references.	Thanks a lot sir for your valuable suggestions.
Minor REVISION comments	Table caption should be the above of the table and be careful in using abbreviation. Please review some text in the table components.	Done
Optional/General comments	Overall good	Thank you Sir
