Optional/General comments	FINDINGS AND RESULTS: Your interpretation of Results of findings should be Hinged on Probability p-values. Kindly See my Comments in the ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPTS 1. Note that if p-value is < or equal to 0.05 Well Reject null and conclude that there is significant relationships between independent and dependent variable. 2. Note that if p-value is > 0.05 Well FAIL TO REJECT NULL and conclude that there is NO Statistically significant relationships between independent and dependent variable	I've checked the revision, ma'am. I have carried out selection and admission based on probability profitability is rejected because my hypothesis states "Profitability has a positive effect on financial distress" but in my research results profitability has a negative effect so profitability is rejected
