Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	yes, language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications
Optional/General comments	1- Repeating the reference (Arnesen et al., 2023) in the introduction in an eye-catching way. It is preferable to write another reference along with it that refers to the study. 2- In Experimental design, the second line replaces the word Vertinary with the word Veterinary. 3- Unifying the writing of infinitives, for example, in the list of references, the first infinitive did not write the word (and) before the last name, while in reference No. 2 the word and was written. Also, the pages containing the research were not written at the end of the second reference.....and so on in the rest of the references.
