| Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. Why do you like (or dislike) this manuscript? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part. | This is very interesting case report due to rarity of the osteosarcoma location. In my almost 4 decades of work, I have not seen any od mandible. It is great article and the photos used are very good. I would like to commend the authors for the complex surgery they've done. My only consideration is the follow-up of this patient (but this is not an issue in this rare case). | Thank you |
| Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title) | Yes | Thank you |
| Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest the addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here. | yes | Thank you |
| Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate? | yes | Thank you |
| Please write a few sentences regarding the scientific correctness of this manuscript. Why do you think that this manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part. | The authors have done nice work, with short and easy understandable sentences. The subject of this article is rare case of tumour and the problems it's rare location may rise. | Thank you |
| Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form. | If possible, some more references on this issue are needed. | Will add in more references |
| Minor REVISION comments | English is not my mother tongue, but the language is correct. | Thank you |
| Is the language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications? | | |
| Optional/General comments | I was really shocked of the history if this patient... We all must invest in education of our patients and medical stuff that there is no tumour prevention but early diagnosis and treatment. This could be stated in discussion or conclusion. ...
