A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	The review article is well conducted. Besides being from African continent where the scientific data is sparse. However, there are limitations to the study. The study sample (n=22) is small to draw necessary conclusions. Further, I will like to see the relation between the HBA1c and anticipated complications. It has been mentioned that Keto-acidosis is the main presentation. How have authors applied the knowledge in making the community aware about the Diabetic symptoms	Thank you for your interest in our work. In fact, the study sample (n=22) is too small to draw the necessary conclusions. Moreover, this is why we did not make any correlation, including the relationship between HBA1c and anticipated complications. In terms of raising awareness, we place great emphasis on therapeutic education for parents at every opportunity, and sometimes as part of holiday activities.
