This should be highlighted in the Introduction section. In addition, the introduction should more clearly underscore the problem statement. • There are only three citations in the introduction. More scholarly works need to be cited along with additional supportive arguments. • Data analysis part in the methodology section is completely missing. • "For a variety of reasons, it is not always clear that IDPs have good relations with the populations in their host area" – this type of argument requires validation and citation. • 3.1.2. Socio-territorial integration of IDPs in the commune of Kaya – in this section there are good findings, but those lack in-depth articulation of the findings. • The term 'socio-territorial integration' needs a lot more theoretical clarity at the beginning. Then, the how are the findings from the interview align with those existing theories or challenge those theories need to be well established. Currently, the findings just present some percentages of this and that. • The interpretation of findings needs more clarity and stronger arguments. For instance, when the researchers write "Because of their status as displaced persons, most of them do not have access to informal employment , let alone formal employment" this needs to be adequately explained. • Few citations are very old.
Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Average
