

Editor's Comment:

After a good look through the entire manuscript, I have discovered the following flaws that needed to be modified and corrected prior to final acceptance for publication:

1. All acronym names need to be defined when first appear, even in the abstract such as FYM, PPC.
2. Some keywords duplicate the same as in the paper title. Other selections must be re-chosen. The name of the study site is an inappropriate choice of keyword.
3. Please define the words, such as “Kharif”, “taluks” to the international readers.
4. Metric unit must be used in scientific journal paper, not acre.
5. Many English syntax errors have been detected. A thorough, careful proof-check and English-check is highly recommended.
