

Editor's Comment:

In the above-mentioned manuscript, the introduction is very weak with one single reference, some statements are not supported by relevant references. The introduction must contain the scientific background of the paper subject because the current version of the introduction looks like a study area section. Please revise this issue.

The references are not updated and the number is very low.

For these reasons, I encourage the authors to fix these problems.

Two more issues:

- The name of the country is required at the end of the title,
- The discussion needs reinforcement, the authors must use more updated relevant references to discuss well the results.

Once the modifications are done, the paper can be published.
