

Editor's Comment:

My suggestion is to accept the paper, but it is necessary:

1. to add some information in abstract as: method (which material was consulted, what type of review article is this, etc), and conclusion.
2. It is important to describe the type of review, the sources where the information was collected, how the information was consulted and analyzed. My suggestion is to create a topic to describe this information.
3. In topic 3, there is some information that it is not cited appropriately. It is important to cite the authors in numbers seven to 11.
