

Editor's Comment:

I now reviewed the paper titled : A Contemporary Role of Beta Blockers in Myocardial Infarction, along with the peer review comments and I can see that the paper is not actually revised by the authors fully, as per peer review 2nd, even though authors remarked as 'noted' to peer review comments. For example, The statistical significance still was not mentioned or incorporated in both the graphs which look rather primary.

Kindly ask the authors to revised the paper fully for the acceptance of this paper.
