

Editor's Comment:

First, the paper needs correction of grammatical errors and English improve. Second, the type of Article has been specified as a Review Article. However, the paper has two sections only: Introduction and Conclusion. In its current form, this paper of "letter to editor" is not suitable as a "review article" in terms of content and design. The purpose and method of the research should be clearly stated, and it should be supported by more scientific articles suitable for the purpose.

Therefore, I think that the paper titled "How to deal with Omicron - Traditional Chinese Medicine - enhance human immunity" is not suitable for acceptance for publication.
