

Editor's Comment:

The study entitled 'A Review on Cardioprotective mechanism of Chemical Constituents of Medicinal Plants' was evaluated by 3 referees and it is seen that the authors completed the majority of the corrections determined in accordance with the peer-reviewed recommendations. The change can be made according to the one referee's suggestion stating that the title should be changed. In addition, it is important to review the grammatical and punctuation errors in the article and the italic use of scientific species names. I would like to inform you that I believe that the work can be accepted for publication in your journal after the addition of these regulations, and I thank you for this opportunity that you have provided to me.
