

Editor's Comment:

After going through the revised manuscript and looked into the reviewer's comments, author feedback, and the revised manuscript 2020/MRJI/57679 titled "UTILIZATION OF VARIOUS STARCH HYDROLYSATES AND DEFATTED PROTIENS BY Bacillus cereus FOR MICROBIAL SYNTHESIS OF METHIONINE IN SUBMERGED MEDIUM", I can say that authors have revised the manuscript properly after considering reviewer's comments. The work done is important and suitable for Microbiology Research Journal International. Needs minor corrections before it is considered for publication. I have made minor corrections in the text of Edited manuscript which may be considered for publication. Once the name of bacteria is written in full it should be followed by initials of genus and full name of species throughout the manuscript.

Please check the attached edited manuscript for details.
