Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript entitled “ Correlates of Rural Youth's Socioeconomic Attributes and Attitude towards Rural Development Activities” was drafted to comprehend the attitude of youth towards rural development activities in in Majholi block of Jabalpur district, Madhya Pradesh during the year 2019-20. However the author(s) did not specify the name of the country. There is plethora of literature concerning involvement of youth in various countries but the authors limited this by not doing thorough review of literature to improve the paper. The style of referencing does not match specifications in the Asian Journal of Agricultural Extension, Economics & Sociology.	As per the corrections suggested i have written the country's name where ever it was needed and also corrected the reference section. I have sent my revised version to review once again. Thank you for your assistance.
