

Review Form 1.6

Journal Name:	Asian Research Journal of Mathematics
Manuscript Number:	Ms_ARJOM_84102
Title of the Manuscript:	EVEN METRIC SPACE
Type of the Article	Short Research Article

General guideline for Peer Review process:

This journal's peer review policy states that NO manuscript should be rejected only on the basis of 'lack of Novelty', provided the manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound. To know the complete guideline for Peer Review process, reviewers are requested to visit this link:

PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	No
Minor REVISION comments	No
Optional/General comments	To be precise, we need to assume the metric space (M,d) in Definitions 1.2 and 2.1 to be more specified ones such as a "normed vector space". The reason is as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• In Definition 1.2, the author uses the notations <math>x+a</math> and <math>y+a</math>. But how can we add two elements of a set <math>M</math>? In fact, if <math>M</math> is a normed vector space, we can add two elements.</li><li>• In Definition 2.1, the author uses the notation <math>-y</math>. But what is <math>-y</math> of an element <math>y \in M</math>? In fact, if <math>M</math> is a normed vector space, we can consider <math>-y</math> of an element <math>y \in M</math>.</li><li>• In Proposition 2.3, the author writes "zero". But what is zero of a set <math>M</math>? In fact, if <math>M</math> is a normed vector space, then zero is an element of <math>M</math>.</li></ul>	Yes agreed.
