Compulsory REVISION comments	It is an extensive review article about the nootropic property of medicinal plants. In key words only clitoria ternatea is mentioned, what about other plants? instances occured , life threatning , Impairment of learning capacity, acquisition of knowledge, pereipheral nerve (nervous is a better term than nerve) system check spelling mistakes . Usually medicinal plants names are written in ITALICS. Clitoria ternatea, comes in two colours – BLUE and WHITE. White has more medicinal valves than blue. The reference they have mentioned for Clitoria ternatea by Rai KS, I know madam has used white variety. Same time even I was also working on white variety for my thesis work - neuroprotective effect. So you can put the picture of white colour Clitoria ternatea picture.
