Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	This Review Article titled: Glomalin: A miracle protein for carbon sequestration is an original paper related to the positive effects of the glycoprotein, Glomalin, to the soil fertility and stability. The information presented in this paper are very interesting and with great benefits to Soil sciences researchers and to agronomists. The publication of this paper can help to strengthen the scientific knowledge in the mycorrhization field. I suggest to accept this paper after some minor REVISIONS.	I have made the corrections as marked by the reviewer. The corrections marked were to the point and apt.
Optional/General comments
