Compulsory REVISION comments	1. Yield is the function of yield components like branch per plant, dry matter, pod per plant, seed per pod etc. Hence, Therefore, 45x10 cm plus mustard may give higher yield than 30x15 cm plus mustard straw. You should justify it properly how it could be in relation to other parameters (yield component parameters you may not record it). Or has it inverse relationship among yield components and yield???	Revised
	2. There is no data which shows gross returns (Rs. 73626.3 ha <sup>-1</sup> ), net return (Rs. 50741.65ha <sup>-1</sup> ) and benefit cost ratio (2.21) were obtained with of 30 cm x 15 cm + Mustard Straw as compared to other treatments. Hence, include the cost benefit analysis data in the manuscript.
