Compulsory REVISION comments	Insufficient data. There are several previous similar works. Justify the present research and discuss. The result data should be more arguing with the research. Discuss the other methods. Explain the protocol and differentiate with present protocol used. Why banana alone was selected? Can this method be used for other fruits? Insufficient reference.  Looks like the work was for namesake. The idea is good but need more arguing and supporting data.	Thank you very much these constructive comments.  The discussion section has been revised with extensive relevant literature  Given the available relevant literature, we report for the first time such a protocol.
