Compulsory REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- The manuscript is well structured- However, It needs many improvements:- The abbreviation Arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi (AMFs) is cited in the introduction part (it is unnecessary to use another abbreviation AM in the part 3.2)- There are many sentences in th manuscript very long → to simplify- I highlighted in the manuscript "according to" four times, it is better to write according to "the author et al.", "and to cite the reference in the end of the sentence- I think it is necessary to include photos of these plants Caatinga and these Arbuscular mycorrhizal fungi to better illustrate what is written- And why not if possible a table summarizing the studies used as references according to the species of AMF described, to the country, year...- The aim of your work is to discuss the importance of AMF in development and conservation of Caatinga Plant However in the part 3.2 there is no argument of that ; you describe the implication and the benefits of AMF in general without liaison with Caatinga Plant- And you have concluded without a good argumentation in discussion- References should be checked according to the style recommended by the journal	Thanks Revision amended Corrected Done revision Done Done
