EDITORIAL COMMENT'S on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to editor's comments
1. Seems quite reliant on Education White Paper at the outset. a. Should a research article be reliant on a white paper? 2. Section 6's first sentence is repetitive. 3. Author(s) discusses phenomenology without really any insight provided as to how the article is phenomenology rooted or influenced. I have an article that might be of help (attached). 4. There just seems to be quite a bit going on in terms of theoretical framework, research paradigm, and then research design and methodology. I feel there might be a better way to combine these things and then also wonder whether all of it is even necessary. 5. I would prefer the "I" pronoun be removed from "ethical considerations". a. Instead of "Before I collected data…", the sentence could read: "Before data were collected…". b. Elsewhere in the article "researchers" are used, and then in this section "I" is used. 6. Lastly, this is a 29 page article submitted as a "short research article". This seems inappropriate.	1. Addressed 2. Addressed 3. Addressed 4. Addressed 5. Addressed 6. Addressed. Length reduced from 29 pages to 26 pages. The actual article is 19 pages long excluding the references
