Compulsory REVISION comments	The article is entitled “Validation of the Protoplanetary Theory of Solar System Formation”. The authors tried their best to explain the hypothesis on the origin of the sun and planets, as modified by Laplace, foreshadowed the modern protoplanetary theory of planet formation in which planets are thought to form within giant gaseous protoplanets. The protoplanetary theory was popular in the 1940s and 1950s, but was abandoned and ignored by phenomenological model-makers in the early 1960s who favored the planetesimal theory. Here, the author validates the protoplanetary theory by Thermodynamic considerations; Observations of internal magnetic field generation; Observations of Mercury; and, Observations of Earth's behavior. I appreciated the Manuscript, but there are many technical, grammatical, and common mistakes in the article which should be corrected by the authors. Authors strictly follow the instructions and format of the respective Journal. After the correction of all the mistakes, the article could be considered for publication in the prestigious Journal of Geography, Environment and Earth Science International. Technical, grammatical, and common mistakes <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>➤ The abstract is very short. Please make them with more explanation.</li><li>➤ Write keywords in alphabetical order.</li><li>➤ The introduction part is very short and didn't give much more fruitful information.
