Compulsory REVISION comments	This is a very worthy discussion, and it is of great significance. The authors tried to analyze from every angle the challenges faced by covid-19 medical staffs in India. Actually, this is not only a problem for India but also a problem faced by many countries in the challenge of this epidemic. The article's only thing is that the literature is slightly thin, and more relevant literature can be added to support the current situation. And if it is possible to briefly discuss the specific effects of laws and regulations on preventing violence for medical personnel in other countries, it will be an A Review Article with substantial contributions	Respected Mam, Thank you for review my paper. I did corrections as per your suggestions.
