Are there ethical issues in this manuscript?	(If yes, Kindly please write down the ethical issues here in details) The authors were granted permission to use Rabbits to carry out this experiment by the KALRO Commitee charged with the responsibility for regulating animal usage.This was because this work involved restraining the Rabbits in cages, taking their body weights, taking blood samples from them, introducing drug by injection and finally inducing the animals to sleep in order to collect tissues from organs. These are inversive techniques.
