Compulsory REVISION comments	First of all, I have to say this is a very interesting an innovative research paper, with a good structure. However, there are some minor things to correct. This paper has no theoretical literature review section. We have some main indicators, but they should be integrated into the theoretical section. This is a major limitation that can easily be corrected. Therefore, we advise to create this section. Regarding the sample, it is important to stress the period that was selected to the analysis: star and end period. This never appeared. Final references are not integrated or reflected within the text. It is important that this situation is corrected.
Minor REVISION comments
