Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript is scientifically interesting and with clear objectives in the investigation of the combined effect of time and acidic beverages on strength of composite resin to enamel and that can be indicated for publication within the scope of Asian Journal of Dental Sciences.The manuscript is very objective in its proposal and with replicable methodology . It is well documented and with numerous illustrations and microscopy that enriched the work.
Minor REVISION comments	1. Correct the word "bonding performance" in the title for bonding strength 2. Table 1 (pH of immersion media) I would remove and describe this data directly in the methodology.
Optional/General comments	Yes, A single attention would be in relation to the patient's consent donating teeth to the aforementioned clinics, not infringing in this way any ethical issue. Suggestion: The mention that the teeth were donated by the patients to the professionals of these clinics would be enough.
