Compulsory REVISION comments	You have to compare your results with existing methods. The writing of this paper is not very good. You have to develop the academic writing of the paper especially the abstract with discussion and conclusion of the paper to be more perfect writing. You have to check the paper grammatically. There exist a lot of grammar mistakes. Punctuation. I suggest improve the title to be " Derivation of Block Methods for Solving Initial Value Problems for System of Ordinary Differential Equations with First-Order " The writing of the abstract and conclusion is bad. They are not consistent with the objectives of the paper. Rewrite the abstract and conclusion in P.P. tense to be consistent with the title, objective and methodology of the paper . Modify the section for the conclusion and rename it as a section of Discussion and Conclusion, to discuss your results. The result of the paper is not sufficient. You have to refer to all equations that you needed their numbers as follows: Equation (no). Put the connection words between lines of equations. Delete all numbers of the equations that you have not referring to them Every equation in line should end by "." or ""," Check the citations of the references and the referring of the equations. Arrange the sections of your paper as follows 1. Introduction 2. Preliminary 3. Analysis of Proposed Method 3.1 Formulation of the Methods 3.2 Order of the Method 3.3 Zero Stability of the Method. 4. Implementations Discussion and Conclusions
