| Compulsory REVISION comments | This article described the efficacy of selected insecticide, beaveria bassina, neem oil against Plutella xylostella in Cabbage, which can provide certain guidance and help for prevention and control in agricultural production. However, some issues should be concerned:- The abstract needs to be modified and simplified, and highlight the conclusion of this study.- The introduction part should be revised, and most of the reference are too old and need to be updated.- There are many grammatical and writing mistakes in the manuscript, which should be carefully checked and revised.- The calculation formula for Larval population should be reedited.- Standard error in table and figures is missing.- In overall, Results and Discussion were poorly written. Write-up is more towards reporting the data in sentences form. Please improve this section by analyze/commenting your data as compared to previous similar studies and highlight the reason behind the logic of getting those results. | |
