Compulsory REVISION comments	The authors of the manuscript titled "Site-specific allometric equations for biomass prediction of Moringa oleifera Lam. in the northern zone of Cameroon". The authors estimated the biomass of Moringa oleifera by using mathematical models. The research methods are reasonable, which can provide a reference for agroforestry systems. However, there are still some issues, and I suggest a minor revision prior to publication based on the following comments. <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. English writing should be improved.</li><li>2. The conclusion part should be improved.</li><li>3. Graphs should be provided to show the comparison results between the models.</li><li>4. Please check the AIC equation used.</li></ol>
