Minor REVISION comments	I think it is correct but I request minor changes: Background: Thoracic epidural and paravertebral blocks carry many risks and hazardous complications when performed for adequate pain management after nephrectomy. Therefore, we evaluated the efficacy and safety of Erector spiane block (ESB) as an alternative block compared to thoracic paravertebral (TPVB) and epidural block (TEB) for pain management after nephrectomy - Correct the misspelled word "spiane". - I suggest adding a Conclusion at the end of the Discussion. It needs to be completed for the work to be properly organized.
Optional/General comments
