Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	The topic 'Introduction' written by the authors of the manuscript is very good as it describes very well the problems involved in the study, with examples of images and also of all the components involved in the process. The topic 'Materials and Methods' is well distributed and explained, however, it is long and can be interrupted due to its large size. With this, it is recommended that the authors remove some information from this topic and put it together in the 'Results' topic together with other pertinent information about the operation of the bioreactor and its success in the production of biogas. Thus, the importance of some process factors can be better understood in this topic.
Optional/General comments
