Compulsory REVISION comments	The topic of the study is very impressive, the problems facing by the health care workers deserve attention. Abstract: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The independent variables and the dependent variable should highlight in this section2. The main finding should mention for example work pressure ($\beta = 0.764$). The contribution of the study to the body of knowledge should highlight Introduction <ol style="list-style-type: none">3. The main issue has been supported by the current research papers which is very good, nevertheless the uniqueness of the study or the gap of the study did not mention clearly. Literature Review <ol style="list-style-type: none">4. This section is missing in this manuscript Methodology <ol style="list-style-type: none">5. The sample 433 is sufficient to conduct factor analysis6. The questionnaire went through pilot test?7. 7 factors have identified however not all the factors are significant. It is better to mention and provided the justification.8. The factor of Anxiety is missing in the multiple regression table Conclusion Since the “work pressure” is the most important determinant that affect the mental health of the worker it is more convincing if the researcher could further elaborate regarding this issue.
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1.remove unnecessary table for example table 62. certain terms should rectify for example Number of stress related questions, demographic and non-demographic variables. (factors that affecting the mental health)3. Table 9, There are 2 Factor 6
Optional/General comments	It is a good research paper, I believe it can trigger the interest of other researchers to further investigate the issue
