Compulsory REVISION comments	This is an interesting study to test the potential therapeutic effects of the punicalagin gel in chronic periodontitis. However, the manuscript needs many improvement to be accepted for publication. Some critiques are listed below: English needs to be improved. For instance: Title: "effects" instead of "effect" Abstract: "properties" instead of "property", "parameters" instead of "paramaters", "Superoxide" instead of "SuperOxiade" Keywords: add "chronic periodontitis" Patient numbers: it was claimed that there were 30 patients in the Abstract; however, in the Material and Methods, there were two group and each group had 30 patients, making the total number of patients to 60, please clarify. IL-1 and SOD levels: how tissue were collected and prepared for these measurements needs to be provided in the Material and Method section. Tables should be cited in the appropriate places of the Results section. Table 2: The results from both groups should be provided and compared. Figures should be described in the Results section.
