PART 1: Review Comments

|  | Reviewer's comment  | Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here) |
|--|---|---|
| Compulsory REVISION comments | <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. A case report should bring out something significant/unusual/out of the ordinary about the diagnosis, treatment, investigations, complications, outcomes, etc. The reason for writing the case report is not clear. Rewrite to bring this out.</li><li>2. The language being used can be made to be more academic.</li><li>3. You may need to introduce the case in the light of why you are reporting it. The introduction of a general description of the disease but not of the case in question. It should tell the reader why this is significant to report</li><li>4. Revise and elaborate on the patient information to show the clear development of the case from beginning to the end of the process of management</li><li>5. We should also consider appropriate consent has been obtained before reporting the case.</li><li>6. Discuss what is special about the case being presented and why it is important for the academic and scientific community</li></ol> |   |
| Minor REVISION comments      |   |   |
| Optional/General comments    | It is important to present the report in an academic language. If the primary language for communication is not English, there could be issues with translating the information from another language.  |   |
