Compulsory REVISION comments	1-The authors only tested only one test in their research to prove their point of view and this is not enough to prove whether the lycopene protected the kidney against celecoxib or not and they should do more tests like histopathology, serum antioxidants, lipid peroxidation, TNF-α and many more test. 2- There are some studies that use celecoxib to protect kidney tissue against nephrotoxic drugs like cisplatin, so it is not sure that celecoxib in the first place induce renal injury.
Minor REVISION comments	The manuscript is not well written and need further revision in the sense of syntax and grammar.
