Compulsory REVISION comments	Methods: As commented in the manuscript. Results: As commented on the manuscript. Discussion: Need to redo the discussion based on the results. The on results available is the demographic data of the population and a comment of no postoperative pain within 60 minutes in which the statistical analysis was not available and makes very hard to comment on the effectiveness of TAP block. Conclusion: Redo the conclusion based on the analysis of the results.
Minor REVISION comments	Typing and grammatical error.
Optional/General comments	It is a good study; however, the sample is heterogenous pain level intraoperatively. With this the corelation of type of surgery, VAS score and the effectiveness of TAP block must be shown.
