Compulsory REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The digital aspects of simulation, gamification which are essential ingredients of teaching-learning process could have featured in the paper.• The paper only brings out the digital status of Bulgaria. Suggestions to overcome the challenges as stated in section 4.2.1 maybe be included as a separate paragraph.• Enhancing inclusivity as regards digital aspects needs to be elaborated in greater detail.• There is no sample size mentioned in the methods section. Hence it is not clear as to the what the tables and graphs represent (N=?) besides per cent and numbers.
Minor REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Minor grammatical errors can be avoided• Review of literature on digitalization can be improved
Optional/General comments	The author has highlighted how access to varied sources of information and data due to digitalization and its impact on the social environment and relationships in our daily life. There is a change in the way people and institutions work. Further the author emphasized the need for constant cooperation between people, teams and the environment. It is related to digital skills; it influences the way people communicate, act and think. Digitalization provides avenues for contacts, communication, receiving information and socializing with relatives, acquaintances, former colleagues, which is important for the development and maintaining digital skills in the Bulgarian population.
